Animation Techniques

Hand Drawing

Hand drawn animation is the most classic 2D animation technique and is incredibly easy to use by all ages. This type of animation has been used for most of Disney's classic films such as The Lion King and Snow White.

Usually hand drawn animations begin as a storyboard where the drawn images help to write the script for the animation. This technique can make for a very effective smovie as it's a simple way to tell a story, even if the plot is complicated.

All you need is some blank paper and some pens or pencils. With a large amount of imagination and some artistic flare you can create a beautiful hand drawn animation.
